Dear Pete:

A party of people, headed by [redacted] and composed of [redacted], is departing for Frankfurt early next week. They are on official business in connection with our outfit and asked me if I might be of any assistance in getting transportation for them. I told them I would write to you and felt sure that you would help them if at all possible.

They will arrive in Frankfurt before this letter does, I am sure, and will have contacted [redacted] and others. I do not know that they will bother you at all. If they do, however, anything you could do for them will be greatly appreciated.

Please give my best to Blanche and our mutual friends. I have almost completely recovered from the wild night life of Heidelberg, and I am sure that it would be in the best interests of the government service if you do not keep [redacted] and his friends up as late as you did me when I was there.

Sincerely,

L. K. White
